Quality Assurance: Our Promise to You

With over 45 years of experience within the industry we have seen many changes and updates to toy safety over the years, which as a company we take very seriously.

We pride ourselves in supplying good quality, innovative and safe products. We want children to have fun and enjoy our products. At TOBAR, products go through a long assessment and testing process and are not launched until we are sure that they are safe.

As part of our standard operating policy, our team evaluates each product to identify any possible hazards or associated risks at the point of selection, and then during the product's development stages. Without this total assurance, we would not be placing these items onto the market.

Our toys are tested to EN71 standards by independent accredited test houses, which use their technical ability and expert opinion to ensure that our toys are safe. Where toy products are marked with CE, it indicates compliance with the Toy Safety Directive, and we compile European Declarations of Conformity (DOC) for each product.

To assist in helping customers, we are able to provide the following documents:

- Bill of Materials: shows a full list of component materials that our products are made from.
- Test Reports: tests against European standards carried out by accredited thirty-party laboratories.

- EC Declarations of Conformity: the product's official legal document that states applicable safety directives to which the product complies.

We work closely with our test houses and have a Primary Authority arrangement with Norfolk Trading Standards, which means we are always aware of any impending changes to legislation and regulations. This allows us to plan for these amendments up to 18 months in advance.

Age recommendations feature on our products to assist customers in making informed decisions. The age guidance we provide is based on regulations, international guidelines and expert advice on children's behavioural, motor and cognitive development.

Authorised Economic Operator

TOBAR is proud to be an accredited Authorised Economic Operator (Full). This is a certified standard authorisation that has been issued to us by customs administrations in the European Union. In short, being an AEO means that we are a trusted trader in the eyes of HMRC and it shows that as a business, we have met high standards in:

- Safety and security
- Systems to manage commercial records
- Compliance with customs rules
- Financial solvency
- Practical standards of competence or professional qualifications

As an AEO, we have access to lots of benefits that allow us to offer you the best service possible. For example, it allows us to fast track goods through port inspections, streamline administrative procedures and gain recognition worldwide as a safe, secure and compliant business partner in international trade. It is also means we have mutual recognition with USA, Norway and Japan, which is extremely handy for our export relations.

As an ongoing process, we continually monitor our products to ensure they remain safe. We are constantly checking our processes and are always looking for ways in which we can improve.

We are so proud and confident in our compliance standards that we now place the TOBAR logo on the front of all packaging. When a customer sees this seal of approval, they can be assured that the product is tried, tested and 100% safe. That's the TOBAR promise.

Should you have any questions about product safety or would like to request technical documents for any of our products, please contact your account manager.

Environment Policy 2020

From our suppliers, to the children who end up with our toys in their hands, everyone is waking up to the impact we all have on the planet.

As part of this, we work hard to ensure everything we produce can be done responsibly, and where possible, using sustainable, recycled or renewable sources. TOBAR is excited to introduce our environmental policy as part of our commitment to a greener, more eco-friendly future within the toy and gift industry. In the short term, we aim to achieve the following:

- Introduce recycling labelling information on all TOBAR brand products.
- Reduce the amount of non-recyclable single use packaging.
- Encourage environmental best practices with our suppliers.

We have joined the On-Pack Recycling Label (OPRL) scheme and will begin to introduce clear and simple recycling information on product packaging. This allows us to support local authorities, as well as the consumer, to increase recycling rates for recyclable materials. The scheme is identified as international best practice by the UN Environment Programme, and has also been cited in Defra's 25 Year Environment Plan as a key component in tackling waste.

TOBAR has always explored new and innovative recyclable packaging for our products, and it continues to be an important focus for us. This involves reducing non-recyclable materials, such as acetate boxes and laminated cardboard, and replacing them with recyclable, sustainable alternatives.

Another large commitment will see us working with our suppliers and supply chains to reduce waste and excessive energy usage. We will actively promote and monitor the switch to renewable energy and more efficient manufacturing solutions across the board.

If you have any queries about our environment policy, please feel free to email us on sales@kitforkids.com, and we will be more than happy to answer your questions.
